WHY TRUCKS?

Did you know there are about 15.5 million commercial trucks in the United States today? If they were stacked end to end, they would reach the moon! With all of those trucks on the road and the transportation industry expanding, commercial trucks are in high demand.

A truck is no longer just steel and rubber. This industry is evolving faster than ever. New technologies are flooding the market with innovations in design, engineering and fuel economy.

At JX, we find solutions, we create opportunities, and we help build businesses. If this sounds like you, then join the JX Sales Team today!

WHY JX?

Family owned and operated since 1970, JX is known for setting the standard of excellence in truck sales and service. Now, in our 47th year, we've grown to encompass more than 20 full-service truck dealerships and support services. In that same time period, we have grown from 5 Associates to over 800.

JX is not only a great place to work, it cultivates an environment that fosters growth and learning. We consider our Associates to be family.

That's why we're willing to invest in your career by providing the incentive, training and tools to help you succeed.
